ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

I am Abarna Pandian .I am an exuberant programmer, skilled in web development,Html,CSS, python, C++, etc. Even though I am not an impeccable programmer, I love the world of coding. My passion is creating, and I find happiness in living, learning, & leveling up one day at a time. I love to code due to the power it gives me to transform the figments of my imagination into reality. It is this adventurous and challenging part of programming, that drives me forward. I am focused on completing a task and don't stop until I achieve the results expected. I am good at critical and Creative thinking. This helps me evaluate a problem from different angles and different perspectives. My passion for programming and my perseverance to withstand hardships helps me explore new horizons.
